

500 MASKED MEN STORM

VIRGINIA COUNTY JAIL

Manville, Va., March 22.—A mob of 500 armed and masked men made a surprise attack on the Virginia County Jail at Manville, Va., early yesterday morning, to secure Joseph Coleman, a negro, locked in Halifax county jail at Houston, charged with complicity in the killing of William Rickman. Rickman's body, his skull crushed and back broken, was found by the roadside Sunday morning, and is believed to have been beaten to death by negroes, who had been darning nearby.

Coleman's held as a suspect, was taken to Houston, where all day Sunday bad feeling became increasingly manifest. At dusk, nearly 300 people were at the jail, but Sheriff L. W. Rice, who had locked up all the doors was at his home with the keys hidden.

Crowbars and improvised battering rams were used but a flat steel door reached after the wooden door had been torn off defied the mob, although they worked for two hours. Rice sent a telephone alarm to South Boston, 15 miles away and a posse of 40 was sworn in and headed for Houston at a high rate of speed. The mob which had been working since midnight disbanded at two o'clock.

SOUGHT TO KILL

SOCIETY LEADER

Buffalo, N. Y., March 22.—Alexander Meyer, a son of a former post master of Buffalo and prominent socially, went to police headquarters yesterday and told the police that the men who murdered Luther P. Graves, Yale graduate and a former captain in the Seventy seventh division, had intended to kill him, but had made a mistake and shot Graves instead. He implicated two brothers, whose names he furnished to the police, as being involved in a plot to kill him because he had killed their sister.

Meyer told the police that he kept his automobile in a garage near Graves' home, and that he lived only a few doors from the Graves home. It was his custom to put his machine away at night and then go home along a footpath only a few yards from and paralleling the path usually taken by Graves. The theory of the police, in view of Meyer's statement, is that the men who murdered Graves stood in the shadow alongside the path and that when Graves appeared they thought he was Meyer.

Farmer Will Wed French Mother Of His Adopted War Children

New York, March 22.—Accompanied by a French widow he intends marrying and her two children and a cousin he intends adopting, Aaron Hempling, wheat farmer of Claremont, S. D., left for the West and their future homestead. Hempling is 55 years old and his bride-to-be, Mme. Victorine Augagneur, is 47. Her husband was killed at Verdun early in the World War.

Hempling, who was too old to go to war, agreed to adopt three French children as "his bit." They were in the village of Villeneuve-Sur Yonne, and when they wrote to him in 1918 and begged a visit he went over there and fell in love with their mother. He said he would have married her in France save for the law of that country, which forbade the marriage of women whose husbands were listed as "missing," though Mme. Augagneur knew, unofficially, that her husband had been killed.

Mme. Augagneur, who has been in a clerical position in Paris, followed Hempling to this country a short time ago, and the wedding will be celebrated at Claremont, where the farmer understands, a welcome from the townsfolk awaits him.

BOLSHEVISTS TO GET BATHS

Seventeen Thousand Pounds of Soap Sent to Russia for Purpose

Chicago, March 22.—Russia, which affords the world's greatest example of what follows when "soap box orators" undertake to handle the reins of government, may be saved by vigorous application of the contents of the boxes. Seventeen thousand pounds of soap were shipped from this city yesterday, destined for Moscow. Used sparingly, this would suffice to wash the faces and hands of nearly a million Russians, and there are predictions that a few applications of soap and water would speedily transform the frothiest Bolshevik into something resembling a human being.

The soap is the gift of the American Red Star League and is being sent at the earnest solicitation of the soviet government, which says that typhus and other epidemic diseases are killing hundreds, chiefly babies.

Rushing Season Hits

Asparagus Growers

Swedesboro, N. J., March 22.—Asparagus growers are greatly concerned over weather conditions. Some beds are sprouting and if the weather continues for a week, many will be able to put the "grass" on the market. Growers are not prepared to market at this time. The season is advanced several weeks. These men are hoping for colder weather.

Even though warm weather continues, followed by a cold spell, the crop will not be injured as sprouts would merely turn and grow downward, but the average farmer is not prepared to handle the crop so early in the season. This county produces a vast amount of asparagus and many of the best hotels of the East are furnished directly from this section.

MRS. STILLMAN BEGGED FOREGIVENESS IN LETTER

New York, March 22.—Attorneys for James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank, have in their possession a letter written by Mrs. Stillman to her husband in the spring of 1918. In it she makes a plea for forgiveness. His lawyers regard the letter as a confession.

This information came today from a source whose reliability is not to be questioned.

Mr. Stillman's attorneys will undoubtedly attempt to introduce the letter in evidence to prove his accusation of illegitimacy against Guy Stillman, his wife's youngest child, who was born November 18, 1918, in a hospital in this city.

Good Bread Isn't A Matter of Good Luck

Rather is it the result of an exact science---which specifically dictates WHAT it shall be made of; and HOW it shall be made.

CORBY BREAD is scientifically made---literally so. All the ingredients are selected after careful analysis. Every stage of the making is dictated by the most thorough knowledge of fermentation and baking. If it was not for the Corby patented dough-mixing machines bread of the NUTRITIVE quality of CORBY BREAD could not be produced---for it takes these machines to develop ALL the gluten content of the flour. If it wasn't for the unusual quantities of rich milk which are put into Corby doughs---even CORBY BREAD could not be of that maximum food value which it does attain in every loaf.

There can be no argument as to superiority---because there is no other bread made as CORBY BREAD is made.

100 PERCENT PURE; and 100 PERCENT NUTRITIOUS

Corby Bread is made right here in Alexandria---and delivered fresh from the ovens to your grocer or delicatessen.

Pure as Mother Made It.
